

Vote Results:

For Guinness World Records Day, you took a moment to consider whether you had what it takes to break a record. You also found out about some of the weird and wonderful records that have been broken, as well as what skills you need to break one yourself. Here's how you voted!

Could you break a record?

"No, because I can easily fail the record I'm trying to achieve or break."

Yes
58.5%

No
41.5%

"I think that we all can break a record if we put our minds to it, and it's a great chance to try something new!"

This week's VoteTopic:

Just a few weeks ago, the US election had the whole world talking... but why? This week, you will be finding out more about the US and how it influences us here in the UK – from brands such as Nike and Netflix to public figures such as Donald Trump, you'll be discussing:

Are we too influenced by the US?

Discuss at home:

- ✓ How the US influences your life, such as the brands that you use, the things that you watch on TV and the celebrities or actors that you like or follow.
- ✓ What you know about the recent US election, and how you feel about the results. What do they mean for us?

Student research points:

- ✓ Find out about any US states that interest you or that you would like to visit. Why is this?
- ✓ What makes you proud to be British? Which things from Britain do or should influence other countries?
- ✓ Should any other country be more influential on our culture?

Coming up...

Next week's topic will be marking International Day of People with Disabilities 2020.
